Special Educational Needs Policy

All students are entitled to an education that will enable them to develop to their full potential physically, intellectually creatively, emotionally and socially. In order to do this, we recognise that all students have particular needs, which the school strives to meet and support. The school will raise the aspirations of and expectations for all students and not simply focus on hours of provision or support.

The school ensures that pupils achieve their full potential by having:

- Differentiation of work across the curriculum
- Disabled access and making reasonable adjustments
- Strong whole school policies relating to behaviour, assessment, equal opportunities and language and learning
- A clear expectation of behaviour
- A pastoral system to support all pupils and parents

Pupils are regarded as having special educational needs if they have significantly greater difficulties in learning than the majority of children in their age group. This may be because of a cognitive or learning difficulty, social, emotional or mental health difficulty or physical or sensory difficulty.

In order to identify and provide for the pupils with special educational needs there are procedures, in line with the SENDCo Code of Practice, for all staff to follow, and an initial referral procedure to the Inclusion team for pupils who have not previously been identified. The Inclusion team provides additional support for students and their families and staff.

The school recognises that every teacher is a teacher of every child or young person including those with SEND. All teachers are involved in high quality training to ensure they are able to meet the needs of all learners.

The Inclusion Team

The Inclusion team is led by Natasha Cameron (Head of Inclusion/SENDCo). Emily Stanghon line manages Natasha Cameron and is an Assistant Head, Safeguarding Lead and a SEND advocate.

The Inclusion team consists of:

1. Salome Houghton – Head of the Resource Base and qualified SENDCo
2. Ruth Alexander – KS3 SENDCo, qualified SENDCo and SEN Teacher
3. Donato Manfredi – EAL Co-ordinator
4. Anthony Amber – Learning Mentor
5. 1 HLTA and 12 Learning Support Assistants

The Inclusion team aims to:

Lewisham’s SEND team, Kaleidoscope children’s centre and CAMHS (child and adolescent mental health) teams, child guidance clinics, social services, support centres, LESOCO, IAG and the Lewisham local authority’s speech and language team
- Assess and apply for special dispensations, in public examinations – exam concessions
- Keep detailed records and complete paper work as legally required by the LEA and have that available if and when a pupil transfers.

OBJECTIVES

1. To work with primary schools to identify year 6 students with special education needs. To support these students through their transition to Deptford Green by working with them, their parents and teachers.
2. To identify and provide for pupils who have special educational needs and additional needs.
3. To work within the guidance provided in the SEND Code of Practice, 2014.
4. To operate a “whole pupil, whole school” approach to the management and provision of support for special educational needs.
5. To provide a Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator (SENDCo) who will implement the SEND policy.

6. To provide support and advice for all staff working with special educational needs pupils.

The support timetable will be reviewed and changed regularly in order to ensure the full national curriculum remains on offer. A detailed SEND register is kept to show which stage each pupil is at: E – EHCP, K – SEND Support or M – Monitoring.

The Code of Practice:

A Graduated Approach to SEN Support

Quality first teaching is led by the classroom subject teacher. The teacher has the highest expectations for every student. The teaching is planned to ensure progress is supported and made. The teacher uses different methodologies to ensure every learner is engaged. The teacher will use specific strategies provided by the SENDCo to support students with SEND.

Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of the pupils in their class, including where pupils access support from learning support assistants or specialist staff.

High quality teaching, differentiated for individual pupils, is the first step in responding to pupils who have or may have SEND.

Additional intervention and support cannot compensate for a lack of good quality teaching. School leaders regularly and carefully review the quality of teaching for all pupils, including those at risk of underachievement. This includes reviewing and, where necessary, improving, teachers' understanding of strategies to identify and support vulnerable pupils and their knowledge of the special needs most frequently encountered.

Through the cause for concern inclusion process, the teacher and SENDCo consider all of the information gathered from within the school, about the pupil's progress, alongside national data and expectations of progress. This should include high quality and accurate formative assessment, using effective tools and early assessment materials.

Identified SEND Needs and Categories:

- Communication and interaction
- Cognition and learning
- Social, mental and emotional health
- Sensory and/or physical

SEN Support

The SENDCo will identify appropriate provisions and support to students placed on the SEN register for SEND support. This is provision above and beyond Quality First Teaching. This may include speech and language therapy, study support, group intervention, specific needs led teacher training, examinations and provisions for curriculum changes, SEND club offer, autism outreach, review of additional adult and deployment of LSAs. Provisions and student progress is reviewed regularly.

Review meetings are held with students and their parents to establish the progress made towards achieving their targets. We ask relevant teaching and support staff to take part in the review process by completing a round robin which covers a range of areas relating to a child's progress and development: behaviour, attitude to learning, social skills and independent learning. We also ask students to provide their views about school by completing a pupil view document. All of this information is collated and fed into the updating of their passports as well as sharing relevant updated information with staff.

Students with an EHCP

The school complies with the local authority timeline of reviews for those students with an EHCP. Any and all additional resources provided to support the students' needs are reviewed regularly. The students' progress is included in the review. Parents and student's experiences are included in the review. Appropriate outside agencies and organisations are also included in the review process. Reviews of students in year 9 and 11 also include high quality IAG. Parents are informed of their child's progress at least three times a year.

Deptford Green's admissions policy follows that set out by Lewisham Local Authority's Admission Policy for Community Schools. We do not discriminate against any admission request through student need or disability.

If a student is physically disabled or who has a mobility issue the school will complete a risk assessment where appropriate. The school will ensure that the student is enabled through whatever means to engage fully in all aspects of school life.

This policy is written with in conjunction with the accessibility plan of the school, in compliance with paragraph 3 of schedule 10 to the Equality Act 2010. The equal opportunities and accessibility policy is a statutory policy listed through the school website.

Governors - Governors are regularly informed of developments regarding special educational needs.
